THE THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION OF THE NEW YORK WORLD

Practically a Daily at the Price of a Weekly. No other Newspaper in the world gives so much at so low a price.

The year 1914 has been the most extraordinary in the history of modern times. It has witnessed the outbreak of the great European war, a war so titanic that it makes all other wars look small.

You live in momentous times, and should not miss any of the tremendous events that are occurring. No other newspaper will inform you with the promptness and cheapness of the Thrice-a-Week edition of the New York World. Moreover, a year's subscription to it will take you far into our next Presidential campaign.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD's regular subscription price is only 1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and Hopkinsville Kentuckian together for one year for $2.65.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.00. Send all subscriptions to Kentuckian office.

ANIMALS TO TALK TO MAN

Noted German Scientist Satisfied That Condition Will Be Reached in the Future.

"Some day a man will talk to his dog and his dog will talk to him. So will the man talk to birds of the air. It will be then that all animal and bird life becomes articulate and a widening of our cosmic horizon, now undreamed of, will result." This was the statement at Los Angeles recently, of R. L. Garner, noted philologist and tutor of Masterlinck, who has spent 25 years in the wilds of the Congo studying the chimpanzee and the gorilla. From these two animals, Garner believes will be strung the first twin cables from which scientists will hang a bridge on which man and his lesser brothers of the world will meet in oracular converse.

"A dream, you say?" he continued. "Cannot the bee teach us a higher communism, the quick, effective elimination of the unfit and shirker? Cannot the birds tell us their secret of flying? Would we not like to know why the oriole, the oven bird or castle building ant are so much better engineers than we are? I believe the day will come when they will be able to tell us. In many respects the gorilla or chimpanzee is far more civilized than man. You never did or never will hear of either abandoning their wives."

After spending a vacation in Los Angeles Mr. Garner intends to return to the Congo for further study of the animals found there.

PLAN NEW DUBLIN CATHEDRAL

Roman Catholics Likely to Erect House of Worship Worthy of the Irish Capital.

Roman Catholic Dublin's desire for a great city cathedral is likely to be satisfied at last. The present pro-cathedral in Marlborough street has never been regarded as anything more than a stop-gap. The two fine cathedrals in the city, St. Patrick's and Christ Church, are, of course, the property of the Church of Ireland.

Some time ago the corporation acquired a site at Ormond Market, on the northern quays, for the erection of workmen's dwellings. The scheme was never popular and is open to grave objection.

The Roman Catholic archbishop of Dublin has now offered to purchase the Ormond Market area as a site for a cathedral at the amount which the corporation paid for it.

The suggestion for a Roman Catholic cathedral at this spot came from Prof. Patrick Geddes, who advocated a new artery of traffic which would bring the two Protestant cathedrals into line with a new Roman Catholic building.

Aroused Painful Memories.

All Farmer Hayseed's hands were in the village choir. At Christmas they used to come round to their master's home, and after much singing, or rather bawling, receive a gratuity. This Christmas being an extremely dark night, they took a stable lantern with them, and arranged themselves on Hayseed's lawn. They had scarcely got through the first verse of "While shepherds watched" when the old farmer's head appeared at the window, and a voice floated through the air. "Say, you chaps," roared the glum-looking farmer, as he threw a handful of money to the peace disturbers, "I'll give my blessing freely if you'll only sing 'Christians, awake,' or 'Ark the herald angels sing,' but, for heaven's sake, don't 'e sing 'While shepherds watched.' Last Christmas, while you were a murderin' that same tune, some villiuns come 'long an' lifted eight of ma best sheep from under your bloomin' noses."

Importance of Home Life.

The re-establishment of the American home is the only remedy for the social evil and the only hope of democracy, declared a speaker at the international purity congress in Kansas City. "The constant shifting of families from one section to another prohibits the long acquaintance among young people through which proper life partners can be selected," the speaker said. "Young people are thrown into contact with strangers, become bold and practice deceptions. As a result, marriage is arranged on a guess; the deceptions are discovered and lead to the divorce court and all too often to immorality."

Cost of Living in Wartime.

Data published in the Statistische Korrespondenz are figured out to indicate the price of wheat in Berlin, at the end of August, was 9 1/2 per cent above the July 31 price, and that the advance was 16 1/2 per cent at the end of September and 26 1/2 at the end of October. Rye had advanced 11 1/2 per cent in August, 21 1/2 per cent in September and 30 1/2 per cent in October. In England the Economist's "index number" shows the average price of cereals to have risen from 57.9 at the end of July to 65 1/2 at the end of October, and to 68.3 at the end of November.—New York Post.

Too Many Holidays.

"Pop!"
"Yes, my son."
"What are these dates on the new calendars in red ink?"
"Oh, those are holidays."
"Well, why don't they put all the school holidays in red ink?"
"Wouldn't have enough red ink, I guess, for that, my boy."

MAKING MONEY WITH SHEEP

Cost of Raising Is Small Compared With High Prices They Bring—Increase Fertility of Soil.

The cost of raising sheep is small compared with the high prices they command or with the cost of production of any other farm animal. The Lincoln, Cotswold and Leicester are probably the three largest breeds of sheep—if any favor in size the Lincoln probably has it. A practical breeder says: "If I want a large-growing lamb, to put on the market at six or eight weeks old, I will use a larger breed than the Southdown, which I might use if I was after a mutton chop. For such lambs I am partial to the Oxford, but the Hampshire might give as good satisfaction." Sheep are a good medium for increasing the fertility of the farm of the man of limited means. A dozen ewes, properly cared for, will soon raise lambs enough to stock your farm with sheep. The estimate is that five sheep can be kept on what one cow will consume. With good, bright, wheat straw and half a pound of corn daily, breeding ewes and store sheep will winter nicely. One of the difficulties in raising sheep consists in the great number of worthless dogs. The only remedy for this condition in most cases consists in a high dog tax and enforcement of the laws now on the statute books. Owing to the scarcity of reliable help, the raising of market lambs will prove more remunerative than dairying. The farmer and one hand can easily feed and care for a small flock. Have a dog-proof exercise yard and a roomy pen with a hard earth floor. Commence with a small flock. Gradually increase as the business is found profitable.

PROPER TIME TO WEAN COLT

Youngster Should Be Accustomed to Eat Hay and Grain Before Removal—Put Mare on Dry Feed.

The colt should be allowed to remain with the mare until it has become accustomed to eat grain and hay before it is weaned. In nearly all cases it will be best to feed the mare for at least several weeks before the colt is removed with ground oats and wheat bran.

Give the mare a roomy, well-bedded box stall, so the colt can eat beside her. This is one of the easiest and quickest ways of teaching the colt to eat.

Give the colt good blue grass and white clover pasture, but put the mare on dry feed. This will help to dry up her milk without causing a swollen udder.

While it is not necessary to particularly push the growth of the colt, it is very essential that a steady growth be maintained and generally it will pay to feed a little grain, unless the pasture is unusually good. Ground oats and wheat bran, say one to two points per day, fed dry will promote growth of bone and muscle and a well-developed healthy animal.

Corn is not a suitable food for a young growing animal.

FEEDING ALFALFA TO SWINE

No Better or More Practicable Method Known Than That of Giving Hay to Animals in Rack.

There does not appear to be any more practicable method of grinding hay for hogs than by feeding the hay via a good rack.

A few years ago some enthusiast wrote a story about alfalfa tea, which he said was the finest thing on earth; that the tea extracted all the animal food in the alfalfa and at the same time left the plant food for the soil. By giving the tea to the hogs they would gain their weight, and then you could scatter the stewed alfalfa back on the land. The story found its way into one of the eastern publications and the western experiment stations have been flooded with inquiries ever since.

HARDSHIPS OF THE DESERT

By Comparison the Average Man Will Think His Lot Cast in Most Pleasant Places.

We are almost across the desert, and I am really becoming interested. The difficulties some folks work under are enough to make many of us ashamed. In the very center of the desert is a little settlement called Eden Valley. Imagination must have had a heap to do with its name, but one thing is certain: the serpent will find the crawling rather bad if he attempts to enter this Eden, for the sand is hot; the alkali and the cactus are there, so it must be a serpent-less Eden. The settlers have made a long canal and bring their water many miles. They say the soil is splendid, and they don't have much stone; but it is such a flat place! I wonder how they get the water to run when they irrigate.

We saw many deserted homes. Hope's skeletons they are, with their yawning doors and windows like eyeless sockets. Some of the houses, which looked as if they were deserted, held families. We camped near one such. Mrs. O'Shaughnessy and I went up to the house to buy some eggs. A hopeless-looking woman came to the door. The hot winds and the alkali dust had tanned her skin and bleached her hair; both were a gray-brown. Her eyes were blue, but were so tired-looking that I could hardly see for the tears.

"No," she said, "we ain't got no eggs. We ain't got no chickens. You see this ground is sandy, and last year the wind blowed awful hard and all the grain blowed out, so we didn't have no chance to raise chickens. We had no feed and no money to buy feed, so we had to kill our chickens to save their lives. We et 'em. They would have starved anyway."—The Woman Homesteader, in the Atlantic.

Adversity.

A high character might be produced, I suppose, by continued prosperity, but it has very seldom been the case. Adversity, however it may appear to be our foe, is our true friend; and, after a little acquaintance with it, we receive it as a precious thing—the prophecy of a coming joy. It should be no ambition of ours to traverse a path without a thorn or a stone.—Charles H. Spurgeon.

The Pitiless Tyrant.

Remember that woman is a tyrant, and that only when you are under her little heel, and it is too late to struggle, you will find how pitiless it can be, and how quickly it can crush the life and spirit out of a man.—Sydney Yorke.
